In a seven segment LED display, a square pattern can be created by enabling a, b, f and g segments or c, d, e and g segments. Design a circuit that circulates the square pattern in the four digit seven segment LED display. The circuit should have an input, en, which enables or pause the circulations, and an input cw which specifies the direction of the circulation.

Pattern for Clockwise Circulation: